ABOUT THE THEME OF CONFERENCE

The International Conference on Socio-Legal Perspectives in Advancing Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) is convened in recognition of the transformative role that law, policy, and social institutions play in shaping an equitable, just, and sustainable future. In an era marked by unprecedented global challenges ranging from climate change and economic disparities to human rights concerns and governance crises this forum seeks to provide an inclusive platform for critical reflection, dialogue, and collaboration. Anchored in the universal vision of the United Nations 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, the Conference emphasizes that the realization of the SDGs requires more than technological and economic innovation; it necessitates robust legal frameworks, responsive institutions, and socially conscious governance that prioritize human dignity, environmental stewardship, and intergenerational equity. This gathering brings together academicians, scholars, practitioners, policymakers, experts and civil society activists from diverse disciplines and regions to explore the intersections of law and society in addressing sustainable development. By fostering comparative perspectives, sharing best practices, and critically analyzing existing models, the Conference aspires to contribute to the development of knowledge and strategies that bridge global aspirations with local realities. In this spirit, the Conference affirms its commitment to advancing scholarly inquiry and practical solutions that strengthen justice systems, uphold human rights empower marginalized communities, and promote sustainable pathways of development. Through collective learning and international cooperation, it seeks to reaffirm the indispensable role of socio-legal perspectives in achieving a more inclusive, peaceful, and sustainable world.
