10. Eligibility

- (a) The 'Eligibility Criteria (Qualifying Exam)' as specified in Part B of Prospectus 2024 details percentage of aggregate marks required in qualifying examination and the same will be calculated using following guidelines:
 - (i) In case of Programmes after 10th and 10+2, calculation of aggregate marks will be done considering best five subjects (with highest marks) in the qualifying examination. However the marks obtained in subject(s) prescribed under the respective eligibility criteria of LPU for the concerned programme must be taken into account for calculation of aggregate marks. For International Applicants, criteria for overall marks/ score as defined by awarding Board/ University will be considered. This clause is applicable for calculating eligibility as well as Scholarship.

NOTE:

- If student is not able to satisfy the eligibility criteria by considering 5 subjects as mentioned in the previous clause then all the subjects registered may be considered for calculating aggregate percentage for eligibility but in such case scholarship will not be awarded.
- If an applicant has passed the qualifying exam by appearing for less than 5 subjects, then all subjects (which will be less than 5 in this case) will be considered. However applicant must have studied and passed the subject(s) prescribed under the respective eligibility criteria of LPU for the concerned programme.

IMP: Certain Boards (e.g. ICSE) declare pass by considering 4 subjects only. However the applicant may have studied more than 4 subjects (additional subject) from such a board. Situation may arise where a student may be scoring lesser percentage by considering 5 subjects but scoring more percentage by considering 4 or lesser number of subjects as per Board's policy. So in such cases, we may consider 4 (or lesser number of subjects) as per Board for Eligibility as well as Scholarship.

- In certain boards/institutions, part of subjects are mentioned as two separate entities in the transcript, e.g. theory & practical as two different entities, Botany & Zoology as two different entities or Mathematics I & II as two different entities. In all such cases these entities will be considered as a single subject, theory and practical paper will be considered as a single subject, Botany and Zoology as one subject and Mathematics- I & II as one subject for eligibility as well as for scholarship.

- If a student has passed the 10+2 from one board and has passed one additional subject (subject considered compulsory for taking admission in LPU) from some other Board, then for calculating percentage of aggregate marks all the subjects (both the boards) will be considered. Such an advantage will be given for Eligibility as well as Scholarship.

Illustration:

Suppose the student has obtained 300 marks out of 500 marks in Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE Board) and cleared Maths from National Open School and scored 40 marks out of 100. If such a student is seeking admission in a Programme where Maths is compulsory then aggregate percentage will be calculated by considering 340 out of 600 i.e. 56.66%.

(ii) In case of Programmes after Diploma, Graduation, Post-Graduation etc. the criteria for overall marks / score as defined by awarding Board / University will be considered for calculation of Eligibility as well as Scholarship.

(iii) For International applicant, English Language Requirement (ELR) can be satisfied by any of the following options:

- Either candidate has studied English as a subject in 10th or in higher qualification, or
- Qualifying Examination of candidate was in English Medium, or
- Candidate has done IELTS / TOEFL / Cambridge English Certificate.

Important for Eligibility and Scholarship of International applicant: If International applicant is taking admission in B.Tech. (Computer Science & Engineering) programme, where eligibility is Pass in 10+2 with (Physics, Mathematics and ELR), candidate must satisfy ELR requirement from either of the options mentioned above and consideration of Physics and Mathematics in the calculation of eligibility and scholarship would be mandatory. Assuming that 5 courses are required for calculation, best 3 from remaining courses may be considered accordingly.

(b) If a student does not have sufficient marks in qualifying examination as a whole or in a specific course, but he/she has done some higher qualification in the relevant discipline, then marks in higher qualification (as a whole or for specific course) may be considered for calculating eligibility of the student. Higher qualification is considered for Eligibility only and not for Scholarship.

(c) Rounding off marks for calculating the aggregate marks is not allowed.

(d) The eligibility Criteria as specified in Part-B details the percentage required in qualifying examination. However in case the issuing Board / University does not award marks / percentages and instead award Grades or Grade Point Averages, then the following criteria shall be used to determine the eligibility and / or Scholarship, unless otherwise prescribed by the University.

(i) If the concerned Board/ University has awarded Grade Point Average for the programme as a whole, then it is the responsibility of the applicant to get, from the previous Board/

University, the conversion factor for converting Grade Point Averages, to percentage for verifying his / her eligibility criteria. In case no such conversion factor is defined by previous Board/ University/ Institute, then conversion factor as per following shall be used for determining applicant's eligibility, unless otherwise prescribed by the University.

Conversion Factor for Grade Point Averages on 10 point Scale will be 9, Conversion Factor for Grade Point Averages on 4 point scale will be 22.5 and similarly for other conversion factor of grades of different scales.

- (ii) If the concerned Board / University has awarded grades for individual courses/ subjects and not for the Programme as a whole, and has also provided the specific marks (or range of marks) corresponding to a grade, then corresponding marks (or mid value of range) shall be used to calculate equivalent percentage.
- (iii) If the concerned Board / University has awarded grades for individual courses/ subjects and not for the Programme as a whole, and has not provided the specific marks (or range of marks) corresponding to a grade, then the following mechanism shall be considered to calculate marks corresponding to a grade and in turn equivalent percentage :
- The marks assigned to a grade will depend on total number of grades being awarded by the concerned Institute/ University. Top most passing grade will be considered equivalent to 90 percent marks and lowest passing grade will be considered equivalent to 50 percent marks. For all other grades, the equivalent marks will be assigned in such a way that difference between adjoining grades is always same.
 - Example: If an institute awards 6 grades A+, A, B, C, D and E. Grades from A+ to D are pass grade with A+ as the highest grade and E is the fail grade. In this scenario, A+ will be considered equivalent to 90% marks and D (lowest pass grade) will be considered equivalent to 50% marks. The remaining 3 grades i.e. A, B and C will be equivalent to 80%, 70% and 60% respectively so that difference between adjoining grades is always same.
- (e) Persons in employment are not eligible for full-time programme unless otherwise prescribed by regulatory bodies and with the prior approval of the employer.

However this relaxation will not be applicable in the programmes where the concerned regulatory bodies have imposed certain conditions.

- (f) If the University participates in any National/ State Level Test and/ or Counselling conducted by anybody or organization designated by Govt. for admission to any programme(s), then the eligibility criteria for admission as notified by that body/ organisation will be applicable for such admission, unless otherwise prescribed by the University.
- (g) Applicants who have done Engineering/Technology or related qualification through Distance Education/ Distance Learning/ Correspondence/ Online or any such mode where the mode of delivering education does not require students to be physically present in a traditional setting such as a classroom/ labs in a University or in any of its affiliating Institute/ School/ College, will not be considered for Admissions.

- (h) Students who are currently enrolled in LPU in previous batches, may be re-admitted on the basis of previous year eligibility including cut off of Eligibility/ Entrance test and/ or National/ State Level Test for the concerned programme (whenever they were admitted) subject to conditions as prescribed by the University.
- (i) For determining the eligibility and scholarship of applicants who have completed their eligibility qualification from LPU, the multiplying factor of 10 will be used for converting CGPA into percentage.

- (b) If an applicant has been provisionally admitted subject to clearing entrance/ eligibility test, it will be the responsibility of the applicant to apply for/ appear and clear the relevant entrance/ eligibility test, failing which his admission shall stand cancelled and the applicant shall have no claim whatsoever against the University. Fee and other charges, also including amount paid for provisional registration, paid by the candidate shall stand forfeited and the candidate shall further be liable to pay the fee and other charges for remaining/ entire duration of the programme.
- (c) The result of Entrance/ Eligibility test(s)/ Interview(s) will be displayed, on the notice board of the Admission Office at the University Campus, Phagwara (Punjab) and/or may be made available at the University Website (under the head Admissions i.e. <https://www.lpu.in/admission/>).
