Creative Minds : Our Sophomores have an Ingenious Sight

Trees are flying & birds are still,
Sea is drying & rain on the hill,
Nights being white & days are blackening,
Can anybody tell me what's happening?
Boys sent to study & girls caged in dome,
Boys buy a building & girls make it home,
Still girls being suppressed & boy are threatening,
Can anybody tell me what's happening?
Sun is cold & moon is burning,
Students are sleeping & teachers are learning,
Elders are active & Youngers are slackening,
Can anybody tell me what's happening?
Blood is flowing & Rivers being stopped,
Guns are shooting & Bombs being dropped,
Soldiers are dyeing & leader are wrangling,
Can anybody tell me what's happening?
Love has vanished & hatred is spreading,
Humanity is dead & humans are shredding,
No one comes & starts the tackling,
Can anybody tell me what's happening?

Stellars Of Hope

I like the dark sky more than the light ones.
I like a lively street more than the lonely ones.
I like a bed of thorns with hidden truths. Rather than a bed of roses with gilded lies.
I like to cherish the moments where love and joy is born,
Rather than to remorse for the time, that's gone!
I like to care for someone true,
Rather than being a slave for some vicious huc.
I like to dream of the big. Than to give up without making it up for a dig.
I work harder day by day For a future, that's brighter and better and lasting enough to stay!
One that is built from the manure of the past...
Over the land of memories.
Watered with hopes of freedom and Nurtured with seeds of satisfaction.
~ Sarthak Kashyap
